

Protected Area Workers Association NSW

Membership Application

The Protected Area Workers Association (PAWA) aims:

“to advance sustainable practices for the conservation of our natural and cultural resources. Natural and cultural resource management includes but is not restricted to maintaining and enhancing biodiversity, cultural heritage, landscape enhancement and conservation, environmental interpretation, access and recreation.”

- A Protected Area Worker – is an employee of an organisation who works in a field operations position or who supervises or supports the work of staff in field operations positions in NSW, the ACT or federally.
- PAWA is a not for profit, professional organisation.
- Ordinary and Retired members have full voting rights.
- Supporting and Student members do not have voting rights.
- Membership fees and travel costs to meetings and functions are legitimate tax deductions.
- Membership of PAWA also includes membership of the Council of Australian Ranger Associations and the International Ranger Federation.
